SC delivers split verdict on Karnataka hijab ban case

Issue to be placed before CII to set up appropriate Bench

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA New Delhi, 13 October

he Supreme Court on Thursday delivered a split verdict on the hijab ban in Karnataka's educational institutions, with one judge holding that permitting a community to wear its religious symbols will be an "antithesis to secularism" and the other insisting that wearing the Muslim headscarf should be simply a "matter of choice".

While Justice Hemant Gupta dismissed the appeals challenging the March 15 judgement of the Karnataka High Court which had refused to lift the ban, Justice Sudhanshu Dhulia held there shall be no restriction on the wearing of hijab anywhere in the schools and colleges of the state. With the apex court delivering a split verdict, the high court's judgement still holds the field. However, the split verdict held off a permanent resolution of the vexed row over hijab as both judges suggested placing the matter before a larger bench for adjudication.

Writing a separate 73-page judgement. Justice Dhulia said, "By asking the girls to take off their hijab before they enter the school gates, is first an invasion on their privacy, then it is an attack on their dignity,

CONTRASTING VIEWS

"By asking the girls to take off their hijab before they enter the school gates is first an invasion on their privacy, then it is an attack on their dignity, and then ultimately it is a denial to them of secular education. Under our constitutional scheme, wearing a hijab should be simply a matter of choice. It may or may not be a matter of essential religious practice, but it still is a matter of conscience, belief, and expression"

JUSTICE SUDHANSHU DHULIA

"The constitutional goal of fraternity will be defeated if the students are permitted to carry their apparent religious symbols with them to the classroom. I do not find that the government order impinges on the constitutional promise of fraternity and dignity. Instead, it promotes an equal environment where such fraternal values can be imbibed and nurtured without any hindrance of any kind" JUSTICE HEMANT GUPTA and then ultimately it is a denial to them expressed by the bench, the matter be of secular education." Justice Gupta, who was heading the bench and wrote a contrary 133-page verdict, answered the 11 questions framed by him for consideration in the matter and said the constitutional goal of fraternity will be defeated if the students are permitted to carry their apparent religious symbols with them to the classroom. While pronouncing the judgement on a batch of 26 petitions, Justice Gupta said at the outset, "There is divergence of opinion.

"In view of the divergent views

placed before the Chief Justice of India for constitution of an appropriate bench," the court said. In his verdict, Justice Gupta said the arguments advanced by the counsel for some of the appellants that this matter involves a substantial question of law and should be referred to a five-judge bench is "not tenable".

Both the judges referred to the state government's February 5, 2022 order which banned wearing clothes that disturb equality, integrity, and public order in

The Chhattisgarh government has succeeded where Akbar, the Mughal emperor from 1556 to 1605, had failed.

The state government has surveyed and allotted "masahati pattas" (land ownership deeds) to inhabitants in the densely forested pocket of the Bastar region.

The emperor, despite the assistance of his able finance minister, Todarmal, had failed to compile revenue records in this area.

The development will facilitate villagers in getting benefits of welfare schemes of the Central and state governments. A masahati study is a kind of land revenue survey. Under the system, the administration determines the landholdings of villagers through their gram sabhas instead of conducting a revenue survey, which involves capturing satellite images of the area and door-to-door compilations of records.

Chief Minister Bhupesh Baghel had directed officials to conduct a masahati survey in the Abujhmad area, which had never been surveyed, given the inaccessible terrain.

According to reports, revenue officials of Akbar, who was the first to conduct a revenue The attempt of British officials, too,

The Chhattisgarh government had notified conducting a masahati survey in 246 villages in the region. Of those, 237 are located in the Orchha block while nine are in the Narayanpur block. SC delivers split verdict on Karnataka hijab ban case

he Supreme Court on Thursday delivered a split verdict on the hijab ban in Karnataka's educational institutions, with one judge holding that permitting a community to wear its religious symbols will be an "antithesis to secularism" and the other insisting that wearing the Muslim headscarf should be simply a "matter of choice".

While Justice Hemant Gupta dismissed the appeals challenging the March 15 judgement of the Karnataka High Court which had refused to lift the ban, Justice Sudhanshu Dhulia held there shall be no restriction on the wearing of hijab anywhere in the schools and colleges of the state. With the apex court delivering a split verdict, the high court's judgement still holds the field. However, the split verdict held off a permanent resolution of the vexed row over hijab as both judges suggested placing the matter before a larger bench for adjudication.

Writing a separate 73-page judgement. Justice Dhulia said, "By asking the girls to take off their hijab before they enter the school gates, is first an invasion on their privacy, then it is an attack on their dignity,

CONTRASTING VIEWS

"By asking the girls to take off their hijab before they enter the school gates is first an invasion on their privacy, then it is an attack on their dignity, and then ultimately it is a denial to them of secular education. Under our constitutional scheme, wearing a hijab should be simply a matter of choice. It may or may not be a matter of essential religious practice, but it still is a matter of conscience, belief, and expression"

JUSTICE SUDHANSHU DHULIA

"The constitutional goal of fraternity will be defeated if the students are permitted to carry their apparent religious symbols with them to the classroom. I do not find that the government order impinges on the constitutional promise of fraternity and dignity. Instead, it promotes an equal environment where such fraternal values can be imbibed and nurtured without any hindrance of any kind" JUSTICE HEMANT GUPTA

and then ultimately it is a denial to them expressed by the bench, the matter be of secular education." Justice Gupta, who was heading the bench and wrote a contrary 133-page verdict, answered the 11 questions framed by him for consideration in the matter and said the constitutional goal of fraternity will be defeated if the students are permitted to carry their apparent religious symbols with them to the classroom. While pronouncing the judgement on a batch of 26 petitions, Justice Gupta said at the outset, "There is divergence of opinion.

"In view of the divergent views

placed before the Chief Justice of India for constitution of an appropriate bench," the court said. In his verdict, Justice Gupta said the arguments advanced by the counsel for some of the appellants that this matter involves a substantial question of law and should be referred to a five-judge bench is "not tenable".

Both the judges referred to the state government's February 5, 2022 order which banned wearing clothes that disturb equality, integrity, and public order in

The Chhattisgarh government has succeeded where Akbar, the Mughal emperor from 1556 to 1605, had failed.

The state government has surveyed and allotted "masahati pattas" (land ownership deeds) to inhabitants in the densely forested pocket of the Bastar region.

The emperor, despite the assistance of his able finance minister, Todarmal, had failed to compile revenue records in this area. The development will facilitate villagers in getting benefits of welfare schemes of the Central and state governments. A masahati study is a kind of land revenue survey. Under the system, the administration determines the landholdings of villagers through their gram sabhas instead of con-
